

BECKS REDMAN

ASSOCIATE ARTISTIC DIRECTOR & DIRECTOR OF NEW WORK

BECKS REDMAN is the current Associate Artistic Director & Director of New Work at The Repertory Theatre of St. Louis, where she has line produced the Mainstage and Studio productions for the past four seasons. Prior to her time at The Rep, Becks held producing and casting positions in the Artistic departments at Actors Theatre of Louisville and Baltimore Center Stage. She is thrilled to be making her Steve Woolf Studio directing debut with GRUESOME PLAYGROUND INJURIES later this season. Becks received her BFA from The University of the Arts and the London Academy of Music and Dramatic Arts.
